MOUNT VERNON INSTITUTE.—An overflowing audience filled Liberty Hall yesterday, to witness the annual distribution of this excellent institution. A large and handsome stage more than twice the size of the standing one had been erected, and the walls, gas fixtures, &c., were beautifully decorated with specimens of the embroidery and needle work of the young ladies.

A few minutes after five, they entered, dressed in white, trimmed with white, blue, pink, or red, according to class, and after gracefully saluting the audience, took seats, the elder on the stage, and the younger on the steps in front of it. During these proceedings a march was played on the piano by two former pupils.

Mr. Richard L. Carne then, at the request of the principal, briefly stated the rules under which medals, &c., were awarded, and made a few remarks on the importance and necessity of punctual attendance in order to learn. Those, he said, who kept their children home half the time, might as well keep them away the other half, as their time and money were utterly wasted. People were beginning to realize this, and attendance was much more regular than it used to be; but there were still a few left in the school of which he had charge, as he supposed there were in others, to whom his remarks applied.

The chorus, "Away! the morn is breaking" was then sung by the school, followed by "Les Dames de Seville," a duet on the piano, and the distribution to the Senior Circle as follows:—Certificates of Scholarship to Misses Jennie Cogan and Jennie Haxhurst, and Gold Medal to Miss Fannie Weinberg, with the highest honors of the School. Premiums in French and Algebra to Miss Haxhurst; in Vocal Music to Miss Cogan; greatest improvement in Instrumental Music to Miss Minnie Brooke, of Prince George's county, Md.; (awarded by Miss Helen Nevett, Teacher.) In Drawing, to Miss Sarah Brager; in Mathematics to Misses Carrie Appich, Carrie Fowler, Eva Cowling, Sarah Duffey, Mollie Kirk, and Jennie Radd; for Tapestry and Plain Sewing to Misses Weinberg, Fowler, Morrow, and Brager. Honors for Excellence of Conduct to Misses Cogan, Haxhurst, and Weinberg.

Then followed music: Solo, Image of the Rose; Duet, Mutual Recriminations; Solo, From the Alps, the horn resounding.

The distribution was then proceeded with as follows:

1st Class: Gold Medal to Miss Fowler. 2d Class: Silver Medals to Misses Garwood and Appich. Honorably mentioned: Misses O'Neal and Morrow.

Division, 2d Class: Silver Medal to Miss Ida Fossett; premium to Miss Lillie Garwood. Book-keeping: Premiums to Misses Fowler and Appich; Prose Composition, Miss Garwood; Improvement in Penmanship, to Misses Emma Smith, Amanda Knight, Minnie Brooke, Kate Jenkins, Loven, Ida Brengle, and Amelia Genszberger; Needle Work, to Misses Lizzie Garwood, Annie O'Neal, Emma Smith, Nettie Studds, Sarah Patton and Lillie Garwood.

For Observance of School Rules, crowns were awarded to the following young ladies: Misses Fowler, Sarah Brager, Annie Morrow, Annie O'Neal, Smith, and Nettie Studds; Honors to Misses Appich, Garwood, Ida Fossett and Lillie Garwood.

As the young ladies were crowned the school arose and sang a beautiful coronation ode. Then followed a duet "Wind and Harp," chorus, Concert of Nightingales, and Warblings at Eve (instrumental), after which the Intermediate Circle received premiums, as follows:

3d Class: Silver Medal to Miss Sarah Duffey; Premium to Miss Ella Duffey. Honorably mentioned, Miss Brooke.

Division, 3d Class: Silver Medal to Miss Sallie Rosenthal; Premium to Miss Sarah Waterman. Honorably mentioned, Misses Kirk, and Giesendaffler. Epistolary Correspondence: premiums to Misses Hettie Blondheim, and Roberta Meagher. Improvement in Reading, premiums to Misses Duffey, Brooke, Giesendaffler, and Atwell.

Plain Sewing, Misses Cook, Jennie Studds, Dorsey, Cook, Clifford, Park, and Jenkins. Crowns for Observance of Rules, Misses Hettie Blondheim, Amanda Cook, Brooke, Dudley, Clifford, Cox, Jennie Studds, and Duffey; Honors for Misses Park and Dorsey.

Music: Solos, Wanderer, Lords of Creation, and Little Barfoot.

4th Class: Silver Medal to Miss Lillie Sinclair; premium to Miss Kate Bright; Orthography, premiums to Misses Martha Rosenthal, and Clara Swartz; Needle Work, Misses Amelia Genszberger, Kirk, Mollie Murray, Kate Wood, Loven, Graham, Ella Johnston, and Octavia Murray; Crowns for Observance of Rules, Misses Murray, Octavia Murray, Giesendaffler, Loven, and Kate Bright; Honors to Misses Sallie Rosenthal, Sarah Waterman, Ella Atwell, Roberta Meagher, Graham, Brengle, Johnston, Jenkins, Sinclair, Martha Rosenthal, and Jennie Radd.

Music: Chorus, It is better to laugh than sigh; Duet, Hark! the Goat Bells; Duet, Rose, Crown, during which a beautiful crown was placed on the head of Miss Kate Bright by her school-fellows.

The Valedictory was then delivered by Miss Haxhurst, and brought tears to many eyes, and the graduates sang the Farewell Song, which was plaintively responded to by the school.

Rev. Peter Kroes distributed the medals, &c. The excellent singing of Misses Cogan, Weinberg, Jenkins and Cook was the theme of general admiration.

The display of work was beautiful. Besides the plain sewing, which was excellent, there was a variety of beautiful worsted and hair work, and a beautiful chair and ottoman. A great many persons inspected the work on Wednesday, and expressed their warm approval of so employing girls in their out-of-school hours.

Kentucky Democratic Convention.

LOUISVILLE, June 21.—The following resolutions were adopted by the Democratic Convention at Louisville yesterday:

Resolved, That the administration of the Federal government with Grant as its Executive head, has persistently violated the Constitution and the purity of its administrative franchise, and unless arrested in its centralizing doctrines and corrupt practices, will subvert and destroy our liberties.

Resolved, That the democracy of the State of Kentucky now reaffirm the principles contained in the platforms adopted by former conventions of the party since and including the conventions of the first day of May, 1866.

These platforms contain substantially the theory and practice which, we believe, if carried out, will secure protection of life, liberty and proper and all essential ends of free government.

Resolved, That while we adhere to the principles declared in said platform and while we are deeply impressed with the conviction that the prosperity, freedom and happiness of the people of the United States will best be secured and promoted by strict adherence to said principles in the administration of the State and Federal government, yet recognizing and appreciating the necessity of preventing, if possible, the continuance in power of the present corrupt administration, while we do not expressly instruct our delegates to the National Convention as to the course they shall pursue, we expect them, after consultation with the democracy of the whole country, to take such action as will most likely insure perfect union of all the elements of opposition to the nominees of the Philadelphia Convention, and the democrats of Kentucky unhesitatingly pledge themselves to give to the ticket that may be presented to the country by the Baltimore Convention an earnest and active support; not only because it will be the representative body of the whole party, but because in the party organization it is the ultimate line of policy which the members of the party should pursue.

Resolved, That the delegates from Kentucky to the Baltimore Convention are instructed to vote as a unit on all questions.

A resolution was introduced instructing the Baltimore delegates to vote for the endorsement of Greeley, but was withdrawn on the pledge of prominent Bourbons to go for the Cincinnati ticket.

From New York.

NEW YORK, June 21.—At the Fifth avenue conference yesterday Senator Trumbull delivered a short address in which he said: "To the question which comes uppermost among us there is only one answer which occurs to me as reasonable or possible. 'How are we to defeat Grant? By supporting Greeley.' Under the call of the States Mr. Dorsheimer responded for New York. Carl Schurz, addressing the Cincinnati nominees: 'Perhaps a better ticket could have been devised and perhaps not. Greeley is now before the people and his name cannot be withdrawn. Overwhelming waves of opinion are rising in his favor and it would be idiotic to attempt at this juncture to stay its progress. The Senator expressed the opinion that if Mr. Greeley is elected he would be by an overwhelming vote he would select from all parties such a cabinet and draw around him such men as the nation would place confidence in.'

The World editorially treats the conference as a fiasco.

The Herald says the conference developed that the democratic party, old and young, will go for Greeley.

The Times says it amounted to nothing. The Tribune believes nothing but good has resulted from the conference. It is reported that after the adjournment of the conference last night a meeting of those dissatisfied with the result of yesterday was called for to-day.
